Don't miss valuable networking and a presentation on...

Strategic Networking Skills for Women Leaders

We all know that networking with other women is something we probably should do, but most of us do not realize just how critical it is to our success. In this mind-shifting presentation by Victoria Waterman, President of Leading Women Mass., you will learn new ways of thinking about strategic networking and how to make it work for you. Plus, you will learn the elements of an effective elevator pitch (your introduction) and have the opportunity to practice.
